DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figure 40 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.121(d)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 3611

4. Claims 30-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

5. The claims are replete with antecedent basis problems. Examples are "the torque" (line 1); "the output" (line 2); "the electric motor" (line 2), "the steering torque" (line 3), etc. in claim 30.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 30 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over AAPA (Applicants Admitted Prior Art) in view of Japanese Patent Abstract No. 10-281,235, hereafter '235.

8. AAPA discloses an electric-powered power steering apparatus wherein the torque obtained by reducing the output of the electric motor by a worm speed reducer at a magnitude corresponding to the steering torque applied to the steering wheel is applied to the steering shaft (Figure 40, pp. 1-3). AAPA does not disclose an elastic-force application means for applying an elastic force in the direction toward the worm wheel to an end of the worm shaft or to the bearing for supporting the end of the worm shaft. '235 discloses an elastic-force application means (19) for applying an elastic force in the direction toward the worm wheel to an end of the worm shaft (shown in Figure 1, described in the Abstract, Solution: lines 7-9) in order to reduce the generation of tooth strike noise between a worm and a worm wheel, and ensure reliable engagement between the worm and the worm wheel easily at a low cost (Problem to be Solved). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide on an elastic-force application means for applying an elastic force in the direction toward the worm wheel to an end of the worm shaft on the AAPA apparatus, as taught by '235, in order to reduce the generation of tooth strike noise between a worm and a worm wheel, and ensure reliable engagement between the worm and the worm wheel easily at a low cost.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 1-29 are allowed. The prior art does not disclose the claimed limitations regarding the first through fourth bearings.

10. Claims 31-39 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure because it relates to an elastic force application means for a worm shaft of an electric power steering apparatus that applies an elastic force along the coaxial direction of the shaft.
